

01/21/2015

Villadom Times

Wyckoff

Midland Park, N.J.

Weekly 13000

0

GARDEN STATE PRESS CLIPPING
Phone: 732-842-1616

Seniors receive gift from children

First row: Christian Health Care Adult Day Services client Cat Morelli, and residents of Hillcrest Residence Catherine Hoffman, Alberta Walters, and Anna Kellmann. Second row: Patricia Lombardi, ADC, Hillcrest Residence Activities Coordinator; Mary Mariconda, CTRS, Hillcrest Residence Director/Christian Health Care Adult Day Services of Wyckoff Administrator; MJ Paulison, Christian Health Care Adult Day Services of Wyckoff Assistant Administrator/Activities Director; and Sue Kanning, KEP/KinderKrew Director/Insep Assistant Director, Wyckoff Family YMCA.

Staff from the Wyckoff Family YMCA recently visited Christian Health Care Center in Wyckoff to deliver hand-crafted placemats that were made for Hillcrest Residence and Christian Health Care Adult Day Services of Wyckoff. The placemats were made by the Wyckoff Family YMCA's children's department. The delivery was followed by a gift of cards distributed at The Longview Assisted Living Residence.

"The residents of Hillcrest always enjoy interactions with the younger generations, whether it be in person or a through a written exchange," said Mary Mariconda, CTRS, Hillcrest Residence director/CHCC Adult Day Services of Wyckoff administrator.

CHCC is also proud to partner with the Wyckoff

Family YMCA in its Care Conversations Series, CHCC's on-site Child Day Care Center. During the Care Conversations series, professionals from CHCC and other professionals from the community were given the opportunity to share their expertise on a variety of timely topics. Due to popular demand, a second lecture series is being offered this year.

"The Wyckoff Family YMCA and Christian Health Care Center have a long history of sharing tremendous values together to serve our community," said Douglas A. Struyk, CPA, LNHA, CHCC's president and CEO. "We look forward to developing new ways for our two organizations to continue to provide valuable resources to the community."